DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-3, 12, 13, 17-21 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bischof. Bischof discloses a suction adaptor comprising a manifold (10) having a suction port (40) and device ports (22, 24, 26, 28, 30) for medical devices. A flexible flow valve (22', 24', 26', 28', 30') is positioned in both a first flow path between a first device port and a second device port and the second device port and a second flow path between the first device port and the suction port. A device port is capable of accommodating an endoscope. Beak valves, as referred to by Bischof, or commonly termed as duck bill valves are well known for having a membrane.

Regarding claims 17-20, it has been held that "even though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process." In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985) (citations omitted).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 4-11 and 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bischof as applied to claim 1 above. Bischof teach the invention as recited for claim 1 but do not disclose detailed features of the valve. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the claimed valve features for the purpose of directing flow, since it was known in the art that any common valve in various positions would direct the flow as desired.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Dye et al teach a suction adaptor having a suction port.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
